From Munich to Berlin

Bavaria and Prussia

Munich, Passau, Bavarian Forest, Czech Republic, Nuremberg, Buttenheim, Dresden, Torgau, Lutherstadt Wittenberg, Potsdam, Berlin

9 Days Tour: Heritage, History, Emigration, Folklife
November 07st – 15th 2011

Bavaria and Prussia: two German states with an incomparable rich history and key players in European traditions. We have designed an itinerary that connects the charming Bavarian capital with the metropolis of Berlin. En route we visit Dresden and its magnificent historic setting, its art galleries and the dramatic history of the Frauenkirche, which today has become a symbol for German unification and international understanding. Before we visit Potsdam and trace Post War Chronicles at Berlin a visit to Lutherstadt Wittenberg adds the history of the reformation to your itinerary. Join us on this Bavarian Prussian blend of German Heritage.

Itinerary

Every airlines has flights either with direct or connecting service to Munich. Leave the US, arrive in Munich the next day.

Day 1 Mon. Nov 07 Welcome to Munich

Arrival at Munich Airport. Transfer to your hotel is on your own and is best either with public transportation or taxi cab (ca 45 minutes ca Euro 40,-- per car, seats 4 people.). Detailed Information will be provided with booking/confirmation. Your tour starts at 3 pm at your hotel. Meet your fellow travelers and your tour director for a reception, tour orientation and introduction into history and heritage of Bavaria. We will issue a reprint of an historic Bavarian passport to make you a "legal traveler" during your heritage tour in Bavaria. A light dinner will round up your day. Beer lovers have a chance to visit the famous Hofbräuhaus for the evening.

Hotel 2 nights: Munich

Day 2 Tue. Nov 08 City Sightseeing in Munich

City sightseeing by bus with short walking excursions. Lunch included. Besides the highlights of Bavarias charming metropolis you will be introduced to unknown German-American sites and stories, such as the Meyersche Hofanstalt, a still aktive glass manufacturing site which exported numerous church windows to former German congregation in the US. Ferdinand Miller desined buildings and monument like the General's Hall in Munich but also parts of the Capitol in Washington, DC as well as buildings in Charleston, SC and St. Louis, MO. Not to forget the political refugees during the 1930ies and 40ies from Munich and Bavaria who found shelter in America like world renowned writer Thomas Mann, Lion Feuchtwanger or Oskar Maria Graf. Time for shopping or individual activities in the afternoon.

Day 3 Wed. Nov 09 The Danube, Passau and the Bavarian Forest

We leave Munich for Deggendorf to board a river cruise ship. The Danube was the major route for millions of emigrants from the Austrian Hungarian Empire. In 1903 the Johnny Weissmüller family from today's Temeswar in Rumania was among them. Already during the 18th century the so called "Danube Swabians" from Württemberg, Hesse, the Palatiate and Bavaria travelled the Danube on flatboats towards the Black Sea. In Passau a sightseeing and walking tour acquaints you with this historic city before we reach our hotel in the Bavarian Forest.

Hotel: 2 nights Bavarian Forest

Day 4 Thu. Nov 10 The Migration Experience in the Bavarian Forests. Bohemian Culture and Czech Republic

A local excursion includes a visit to the Emerenz Meier house. Bavaria's best known folklife writer emigrated in 1906 to the Bavarian neighborhood ("Waldlerviertel") in Chicago's Northside. Visit the open air museum in Finsterau and learn about life in the Old Days. Small farms, cutting wood, charcoal fabrication ment hard work and little income. The migration experience from around here is reflected in fascinating biographical portraits. Later that day the excursion continues into the Czech Republik to explore Bohemian traditions as well as the new shape of Europe. Dinner at the Emerenz Meier House restaurant.

Day 5 Fri. Nov 11 The Glass Road. German American History in Fürth and Nuremberg

Drive on scenic route through the Bavarian forest, Germany's largest National Park, and learn about the centuries-old glassblowing traditions while visiting a traditional glass workshop. Continue to Nuremberg for city sightseeing including its medieval history as well as the former Nazi party rally grounds. Again we add interesting German American and Jewish biographical portraits from Henry Kissinger's birthplace to Sandra Bullock and Billy Joel in nearby Fürth.

Hotel: 1 night Nuremberg

Day 6 Sat. Nov 12 Dresden

Leave Nuremberg and continue to Dresden (Time allowing : stopover at Buttenheim to visit the Levy Strauss museum, depicting the life of the creator of the Jeans during the California Gold Rush). In the afternoon sightseeing at Dresden: The historic setting at the Elbe River, Brühlsche Terrasse, Kings Palace, The Zwinger Palace and Gallerie. A special focus will be on the reconstructed Frauenkirche, Germany's largest evangelical cathedral, today a symbol for Germany's reunification and international friendship likewise. Optional: music event, concert in the Frauenkirche or famous Semper Operahouse.

Hotel: 1 night Dresden

Day 7 Sun. Nov 13 Dresden to Berlin: Lutherstadt Wittenberg and Potsdam

First stop today will be Lutherstadt Wittenberg to trace the history of Reformation: Visit the Schloßkirche, see the famous door where Martin Luther nailed his thesis, vist Luthers and Melanctons grave, walk the old town. En route to Berlin stop for the second attraction in your day's program: the splendid palace and park of Sanssoussi at Potsdam. Visit the new Palais and grave of Frederic II, named "der Große", King of Prussia near the terrassed gardens. Sightseeing as we drive into Berlin.

Hotel: 2 nights at Berlin

Day 8 Mon. Nov 14 Berlin: Prussian Residence and Modern Metropolis
